Be a Personal Shopper at the Silver City Museum!

Store Volunteers at the Silver City Museum have a lot of fun helping visitors select gifts for their friends and families. People from all over the world come to the museum and want to take home something special to remind them of their time in Silver City and New Mexico.

The Museum Store has an excellent selection of high quality gifts that interpret our region and provide a take home memory of Silver City. Many of the visitors ask questions about the Native American jewelry and the pottery. "It's fun to be able to help them select just the right piece or the best book for their interests, states store volunteer Melvyn Gelb. It's also exciting to help people shop for their holiday gifts."

Silver City Museum Store volunteers work shifts averaging 3 hours per day. Some work once a week and other several times a month. It's not hard to do, and you meet so many interesting people who are having fun shopping, states Gelb."
